Volleyball ACT Capital Volleyball League Grand Finals this Sunday

The Capital Volleyball League (CVL) grand finals are being played this Sunday 10 September from 11am at the National Hockey Centre in Lyneham. Come and watch both our Premier and Division 1 Men and Women play.

The Women's Premier Division grand final sees minor premiers ANU take on Belconnen. Both teams have faced off in the grand final over the last two years with Belconnen winning both years. This year ANU have a real chance of taking home gold having defeated Belconnen twice during the season.

Belconnen have played in the Men's Premier Division grand final for the last three years, winning last year. This year they match up against the young guns from the Volleyball Australia Centre of Excellence (CoE) team hosted by the Australian Institute of Sport. "The CoE team has been a great addition to CVL. Its' introduction has increased the level of competition while providing much needed match practice for the team," said Volleyball ACT CEO, Adam Castle.

Adam congratulated all teams reaching the grand final, saying: "All teams have shown great skills and determination this year and have been rewarded with the chance to take home the silverware. The ACT Volleyball community wishes all teams the best of luck on Sunday".

The Volleyball community in the ACT is diverse, passionate, family friendly and social. "Our local network of clubs cover the geographic Canberra region and offer unique, well organised and fun Volleyball experiences for all members of the ACT community.

In Australia, Volleyball is the most gender-equal sport in Australia and the third biggest Olympic team sport, one of the largest team sports by participation, and enjoys high rates of participation across all groups.
